at the Omega Institute, Rhinebeck, NY...see below...

Trees are generous beings. We appreciate their gifts of oxygen, cooling, food and inspiration. Let's return the favor by becoming their healers and protectors.

When Tree Whispering™ experts Dr. Jim Conroy and Ms. Basia Alexander put their hands on trees, they feel bark, and also a bio-energy field full of information and wonder. They lead us to touch the majestic trees of Omega to experience growth energy and take meditative journeys into trees' inner dimensions.

We learn permission-based Green Centrics™ holistic energy healing methods from integrative medicine, ancient wisdom, faerie folklore, and new sciences in our approach to trees. We enjoy "coming from the tree's point of view," listening for wise messages with our intuition and using hands-on procedures.

In mindful—even sacred—ways, our interconnectedness deepens. While tree whispering, we shift and grow our very being in harmony with current global transformations.

In practical ways, garden chores become a respectful and cooperative partnership. Our trees and plants at home will become healthier. Our expectations for improving forest health multiply.

We graduate with the satisfaction of knowing that we can help stressed trees. Our diplomas read: Tree Ambassadors™...speaking with trees so that we can speak for trees in trouble.
